Public denied access to freeway

Misuse of federal funds on El Charro?

EXCLUSIVE TO THE TIMES

That controversial interchange at El Charro Road and Intersate 580 now used almost exclusively by two gravel firms and their clients may have made illegal use of federal funds.

It appears that up to $300,000 in federal money was spent on that project, with the strict understanding that Alameda County would act immediately to provide "public access" via a rebuilt and widened El Charro Road. But in the six years since acceptance of that agreement the best the county has done is to allow first Rhodes-Jamieson and later Kaiser Sand and Gravel to develop private access to I-580 via that interchange.

Correspondence exchanged by state, county and local officials from 1965 through 1969 leaves no doubt as to the need, or the intent, behind development of the interchange that was to be an essential link in a north-south county route connecting Stanley Boulevard to I-580.

"That right of way may not be accepted for financing with federal funds unless El Charro Road is extended southerly by Alameda County to Stanley Boulevard ... prior to or concurrently with freeway construction," wrote J.C. Womack, state highway engineer in a May 14, 1965 letter to the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads in Sacramento.

Alameda County and the cities of Pleasanton and Livermore — all of which had joined in pressing for state construction of that interchange — were kept informed of that primary condition. In a letter dated June 27, 1969, Herbert G. Crowle, director of public works for Alameda County, acknowledged that county obligation when he advised the State Division of Highways in Sacramento — "This is to assure you that the county does intend, in cooperation with the cities of Pleasanton and Livermore, to cause El Charro Road to be constructed to adequate standards southerly to a connection with Stanley Boulevard. We will expedite the required planning with both cities," Crowle added.

Contacted by The Times this week, Crowle not only acknowledged that no work was progressing on that link, but even admitted that "no one in my office" has had any recent discussion relative to that project.

KAISER ALLOWED IN

That same question had been to put to Crowle some two years ago at the "dedication festivities" for a short stretch of road tied to that interchange, financed by Kaiser Sand and Gravel, built in part on county property, and designed initially to allow Kaiser's trucks to enjoy the same freeway access that had hitherto been reserved just to Rhodes and Jamieson.

"The new El Charro Road will go that way," Crowle said, pointing om a southerly direction toward Stanley Boulevard. He explained in detail the need to bridge or even re-route certain drainage channels in order to complete that public project.

Kaiser spokesmen also made note at that occasion of their "considerable investment" for a road project that would "be turned over to the county for use by the public."

But that private road and the "private interchange" have been reserved for use by those two firms and their clients. Signs all along El Charro Road beginning from Stanley Boulevard advise the public to "Keep Out." And even the gravel firms operating on the south side of Stanley — Lone Star and CalRock — are denied that direct access to I-580.

Contacted in Sacramento by The Times, state officials acknowledged that "all interchanges build within state freeway systems since 1965 were 92 percent federally funded." But it is also clear that such funding is contingent upon public use of such a facility, and local action to bring about that public access.

In the five years since that commitment was made, and construction of the interchange was undertaken, Alameda County has not only failed to provide for public use of that facility but "there are no conversations or studies now underway in my office" relative to such a road, Crowle admits.

All of which is in direct violation of the strong bid made by the cities of Livermore and Pleasanton and the County of Alameda when they convinced the state to build an interchange that today provides two firms with direct access to their East Bay markets.

Public use of the El Charro Road-Interstate 580 interchange is restricted. This was to be an essential link in a north-south route connecting Stanley Boulevard to I-580.

Nothing doing, says Bonne

September rodeo at fair?

Contrary to a County Fair Association release listing a rodeo for September 26-28 at the Fairgrounds, there'll be no such event again this year.

The schedule of monthly events, which lists all groups using Fairgrounds' facilities and the dates of use, noted a rodeo with Christensen Brothers supplying the stock on the late September dates.

Al Bonne, County Fair Association director, confirmed that no such event is planned. Bonne is a former rodeo association president and one of the most knowledgeable persons in the county on rodeo activities.

The last rodeo staged at the Fairgrounds, in the grandstand area, was in 1973. It was put on in conjunction with Pleasanton Daze and enjoyed moderate success. The year before, three performances were held but inclement weather severely hampered the turnout and the competition.

Bonne said inclusion of the dates for the September, 1975 calendar of events was apparently "just an error by the Fairgrounds staff."

Though there'll be no bucking broncos and daredevil cowboys performing in Pleasanton this year, the Fairgrounds nevertheless will have a lengthy September schedule.

The Central Labor Council's annual picnic on Labor Day traditionally draws 5,000 to 10,000. Several prominent politicos are expected at this year's picnic and rally. Last year, now-Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Jr. was one of the principal speakers.

The facultys of three valley high schools have picnics scheduled the week of school opening. Amador High is slated Sept. 2, Dublin Sept. 3 and Livermore Sept. 5.

Picnics and barbecues again dominate the schedule.

The Val Vista Homeowners Assc. will picnic on Saturday, Sept.6. Other frolicking groups include Alameda County Veterans Assn., Alameda County Farm Bureau (Sept. 10), Calvary Temple, Alameda County Sheriff's Dept. (Sept. 7), Fair Directors (Friday, Sept. 12), Metropolitan Life Insurance, Alisal Masonic Lodge, Pan Creton Assn., Ambrose D. Regalia VFW Post and Auxiliary, San Francisco Water Dept. (Sept. 20), St. Michael's Parish (Sept. 21), and Old Timers Baseball Assn. (Sept. 21).

The Pleasanton Model Rocket Club has model rocket launchings slated for Saturday, Sept. 6, and Sept. 20.

Numerous autocrosses are slated, including those by Porsche Club, Sunbeam Tiger Owners' Club, Northern California Corvettes and Autocross Competition Team (championships on Sept. 21).

Shotgun murder case

Lamont pleads not guilty

LIVERMORE — A single close friend of some 20-years standing joined Charles William Lamont and his attorney in court yesterday as the 49-year-old unemployed former furniture salesman pleaded not guilty to charges he murdered his wife Aug. 13

In a brief appearance before municipal court judge William Gale, Lamont's attorney, public defender Leonard Ulfelder, waived time and entered the plea.

Ulfelder was appointed to the case Wednesday. He is a three year veteran of the county's public defender's office with some six months prior private practice.

Deputy district attorney Carol Fickenscher noted "some question about several items the defense attorney's requested" under a discovery motion filed by Ulfelder.

Ulfelder would not elaborate on his request, but said the items would be disclosed at next Tuesday's hearing.

The case will be heard again Tuesday in Livermore when the prosecution must meet the defense's demand to produce evidence in the case.

Marty Martin, who has known Lamont some 20 years and had known the couple through their 10 year marriage, said he was "convinced" the suspect couldn't have done it.

The body of Lamont's estranged wife, Helen Ferrell Lamont, was found by their children in her 5222 Norma Way, Livermore, home. She was killed with a shot to the head from a shotgun.

Lamont was arrested the following morning outside Winnemucca, Nev., by highway patrolmen who cited him for drunk driving and possession of a loaded weapon.

He waived extradition and was returned to the valley that weekend.

In his first court appearance before judge Gale on Monday Lamont asked that the preliminary hearing be skipped and the matter taken directly to Alameda County Superior Court.

Ulfelder and the district attorney's office must concur in that request if it is made formally.

The Lamonts had been separated since February 5. She filed for divorce on Feb. 19, and an interlocutory decree was granted May 1.

Helen Lamont, 36, a secretary at the Lawrence Livermore Laboratory, was granted custody of their children, Stephanie, nine, and Valerie, seven.

William Lamont did not contest the divorce.

They were married in Los Angeles on Jan. 8, 1965.

Dump bill decision due Mon.

An appeal for public support of legislation that would extend local control over garbage dumps in this valley has been sounded by a citizens' committee that cites "the tremendous pressure being mounted to defeat that legislation."

"Monday is the critical day," says Bill Jamieson, a spokesman for CAGE (Citizens Against a Garbage Environment) adding that "Senator Milton Marks' Committee on Local Government will take up AB 2220 on that day. This amendment would expand legislation first authored by Assemblyman Floyd Mori (D-Pleasanton) providing local control over development of new dump sites. Specifically, the amendment is aimed at "existing permits," a move that would bring the Kaiser Sand and Gravel pits north of Stanley Boulevard under that same local jurisdiction.

Kaiser had originally proposed filling a 760-acre pit with garbage drawn from throughout the East Bay, but recently amended that plan to include only "inert construction material." CAGE has contended even that kind of waste poses a threat to the valley's underground water resource.

"We need public support right now in order to get this important amendment through that Monday committee hearing," Jamieson says. He is asking valley citizens to "write or telegraph Senator Milton Marks, chairman of the Local Government Committee, Senate Office Building, Sacramento." Support for AB 2220 should be cited in those messages, Jamieson says.

Reports from Sacramento indicate that defeat of AB 2220 centers around "the state's concern for action on solid waste disposal" and it is reported that "even the governor's office is getting into this one."

Kaiser dump proposal returns to RWQCB

SACRAMENTO — The State Water Resources Control Board yesterday authorized its executive officers to obtain an amendment to a court order precluding a regional review of Kaiser Industries' application for a proposed garbage dump near Pleasanton.

The state agency "determined the court action precluded sending the matter back to the Regional Water Quality Control Board" (RWQCB) when it told its executives to seek the amendment.

If the amendment is granted the RWQCB will issue a permit allowing Kaiser to dump Class III — inert construction debris — in its 775 acres of depleted gravel pits adjacent to Pleasanton.

Kaiser "has indicated a desire to withdraw its request for permission to discharge Class II waste," the board said, and has proposed use of the permits for inert debris "only."

Citizens Against a Garbage Environment (CAGE), a group formed to oppose Kaiser, has called the modification a ploy that would get "Kaiser's foot in the door."

A hearing must now be scheduled to review discharge requirements for Kaiser's modified proposal.

Downtown merchants meet again Tuesday

LIVERMORE — The history of the city's response to retailers' requests will be investigated at a meeting aimed at starting a downtown merchants' association scheduled for Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Emperors Gardens Restaurant, 2180 Third St.

Bobbi Silva, a partner in The Cover-Up interior decorating store on South J Street, is the organizer of the meeting, the second such conference she has called this month.

According to Mrs. Silva, the retailers will ask about the results of city council investigations into the downtown parking situation and the history of the city's position on parking and other merchant requests.

The meeting was born from a petition of some of the merchants on First, Second, South J and South K streets protesting their assessments for the merchants' parking lot behind First Street, which they claimed was unfairly levied.

If you're shopping for a cop in Dublin—too bad!

Your fingers may do the shopping in the Yellow Pages, but if its Alameda County Sheriff's Deputies you want — or any other Alameda County agencies — you won't find them in the book, regardless of the color of the pages.

Because Pacific Telephone composes its directories by frequency of use in areas most often called, Dublin, that quiet little Alameda County suburb of 16,000 tucked precariously near the Contra Costa County line, is part of the "Central Contra Costa County" book.

Dublin residents and businesses are listed in the Pleasanton-Livermore phone book, but the two more populous towns of the valley are omitted from Dublin's directory.

That wouldn't pose such a problem if you wanted to call, say, Aunt Rose and Uncle Harvey.

But don't call for a cop.

Those page one, "emergency" listings of the CCCC show "828 - 5400" as the sheriff's number for Dubliners.

As the frustrated and forlorn woman who phoned The Times this week found out — and as any ace police reporter in Alameda County knows — that phone will ring, and ring, and ring, and ... Well, you get the picture.

Deputies rise to their defense, however, and point out that the beleaguered "828 - 5400" has never been an emergency number, but is the general telephone (sorry, Ma Bell) for all incoming calls to the infamous facility (sorry, sheriff Houchins).

Attorneys, parents, spouses, lovers, frightened unindicted co-conspirators. They all call 828 - 5400.

Got your pencil ready?

The real number is ... Wait a minute. It's here somewhere ... 462 - 1212 . It's right there. In the Ptown-Livermore directory you don't get in Dublin.

But back to Ms. Forlorn.

If you're diligent — and she was — you'll call the Dublin Police and Sheriff's number also listed on page one, 228 - 8200, and be told that Contra Costa County Deputy Sheriff's have no jurisdiction in the Alameda hamlet of Dublin.

If you're persistent — by this time the prowler's made off with the silverware and jewelry and is disassembling grandma's antique dining table — your eyes will rivet on directions to look up "non-emergency" numbers in their alphabetical listings.

Any port in a storm, right?

Guess what?

There is no Alameda County.

There's the "Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Assn.," and "Alameda Honda," and even "Alameda, Frank." But no Alameda County.

Should you want the courts, health department, hospitals, animal control center or whatever, you become a necessary part of Ma Bell's $55 million phone call. That's the one they're thinking of charging for.

Like the deputies, however, the phone company rises to its own defense.

Alameda County did it.

According to a company spokesman, 828 - 5400 "has been listed as the number to call for Alameda County Sheriff's Deputies assistance since its listing in the 1971 CCC telephone directory."

The emergency number, they continue, was furnished by the county's general services agency communication group "effectively authorized by Alameda County."

In 1971 Alameda County had three numbers listed in the white pages, two for the deputies and one for the health department.

Both sheriff's numbers were the same, however, one as a listing for Santa Rita, the other as the general "Sheriff's number."

In 1972 the only alphabetical listing for the county was the sheriff's you-guessed-it Santa Rita number.

The booking desk number at the rehabilitation center was added in 1973, but, alas, discarded the following year when Alameda County decided not to purchase extra white pages space in the CCCC directory.

The county is given free listings in the plethora of "Alameda County" phone books, but has to purchase space in the CCCC directory.

Ma Bell's spokeswoman in the CCCC's Walnut Creek office told The Times the problem in alphabetical litings will be brought to the attention of Alameda County officials. The "emergency" number on page one will be changed.

A Pleasanton-Livermore free of charge directory is available at any PT&T office.

The CCCC directory, however was issued just this month.

That doesn't mman you can't call a cop for the next 11 months.

Pacific telephone explains that their operators are trained to ask "What city?", when you dial "O" for(police.

Information (411) may be another story. It's been known to ring like Santa Rita. The "directory assistance" person may ask for the city. Not necessarily, though.

The key, of course, is that 462 - 1212 number.

It's a direct connection to the sheriff's Eden Township Substation (ETS) central dispatcher.

The person answering your call will speak directly to the squad cars responding to the emergency.

That's fast.

A SIMPLE SOLUTION

Sheriff's deputies would like some enterprising capitalist concern — are you listening Dublin Chamber of Commerce, et al? — to mail those self-adhesive, glow in the dark, emergency number stickers.

The Times has a better idea.

If you'll cut off the bottom of this column and tape it to your phone, we'll give you the number. Free .

We'll even throw in the secret-to-Dubliners toll free Alameda County numbers for the county's offices in both Oakland and Hayward.

Need extras for extensions?

Buy more papers.

AlCo Sheriff, emergency only: 462 - 1212

AlCo Oakland offices: 846 - 3277

AlCo Hayward offices: 846 - 4457

You're welcome.

Move could free millions for schools

Assembly to try to override veto

The State Assembly will attempt to eliminate Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Jr's blue pencil on SB 220 school aid funds today, a move that could free millions of dollars more for beleaguered school districts across the state.

There was a report Thursday, attributed to Assemblyman Floyd Mori's office, that the Governor might remove his veto and thus clear the way for appropriation of $115 million to schools. As matters stand now, public schools will receive $88 million.

The Pleasanton Elementary School District stands to receive $167,902 and the Amador Valley Joint High School District $98,970.

Under the inflation factor tied to SB 90, the now-infamous Dills Bill, aid per ADA (average daily attendance) would increase from $152.20 to $171.88 in the high school district and by $30.87 per child in the elementary district.

According to Doug Rose, assistant superintendent for fiscal services, the funds start coming in almost immediately with the amount adjusted according to the districts' actual ADA's.

First priority use for the additional funds is raising of salaries from the adopted 4.5 per cent hike to 6.5 per cent. If sufficient funds are forthcoming from SB 220, salaries would be further increased to 8.5 percent. Any monies beyond the 6.5 per cent raise would be divided between program and salaries.

Rose says 1 per cent is equivalent to $50,000.

First priority for restoration, the program portion, is school supplies. The latter was cut 20 per cent across the board for both districts.

Asked if funds for transportation might be restored, Rose said he didn't believe it was a high enough priority—as established by the boards — to be funded. It had been announced last Friday that, because of budget cuts, 29 student bus stops were being eliminated.

The presence of Russian missiles in Cuba was protested by President John F. Kennedy in 1962. Danger of nuclear war ended when the Russians withdrew the missiles.

Also instruction days

School opening dates set

All school districts in Alameda County have set opening days and number of days of instruction for the 1975-76 school year.

All schools in the Livermore Valley Unified School District will open on Wednesday, Sept. 3.

High schools in the Amador Valley district will commence classes on Sept. 4, an opening date shared by Pleasanton, Murray and Sunol Glen schools.

The Chabot College Valley and Hayward campuses convene classes on Sept. 15.

Murray, Pleasanton and Sunol Glen will have 177 days of instruction while Amador Valley and Chabot will have 176.

The aforementioned schools are scheduled to recess for vacation on June 11, 1976. Chabot closes on June 18.

Most other schools in the county open on Sept. 3 or 4.

Bloodmobile hours on Tuesday, Sept. 2 will be from 3 to 6:30 p.m. at the Veterans Memorial Building.

Pleasanton man protests Foothill Road dog school

County agencies refuse to remove guard dogs

Second of two parts

Since June 30, Neil Miller of Pleasanton has been trying to prod the county into action over the training of guard dogs at 5470 Foothill Rd.

The dogs are allegedly trained on a 60 acre ranch located directly across from the entrance to the Stoneridge residential area, where Miller lives. The Pleasanton man is naturally concerned about the placing of such a facility near residences with children.

Estimates of the numbers of dogs on the ranch range from six — which Miller says the owner's son told him — to 60 — a second hand report through a county official.

Miller began his quest by simply asking county officials if the owner of the property had a proper permit for the dog training facility and finally was informed that an application was pending as of July 30.

Gordon Mills, the owner of the land, had an Animal Fanciers' permit that allowed him to keep more than five dogs, but the training of the dogs qualifies as a business and must have a permit from the Alameda County Zoning Administrator, Dick Flynn.

The application for the training facility listed William Schilp as co-applicant, and apparently Schilp is in the process of purchasing the land from Mills.

Mills has refused to sign a permit that would allow the training to go on but since the land is in the process of being transferred, the Alameda County Planning Department is allowing Schilp to continue operation as long as the permit is pending.

However, Norman Paul of the Alameda County Health Department made an inspection of the property and told Miller that the dogs were inadequately housed.

However, Paul claimed that the Animal Control Department should actually force Schilp to evict the animals, not the Health Department.

John Moore of the Animal Control Department maintained that it was the Health Department's job to evict the animals, if there was any evicting to be done.

A San Leandro-based county official also told Miller that his investigation of the affair resulted in four of the seven neighboring landowners stating they "did not wish this business in the area under any conditions."

The others were not enthusiastic in their support of the dog-training camp and were concerned that adequate safety measures were being taken.

However, as it stands, apparently neither county agency — Animal Control or the Health Department — will act to remove the dogs from a situation they both allegedly admitted is substandard.

The Zoning Adminstrator normally will not force a petitioner to stop an activity if a permit request is in the works. Once the permit is denied, the only real recourse for the county is the courts, as the department has no enforcement arm.

Schilp and Mills are scheduled to appear on Aug. 27 in Hayward before the Zoning Administrator to ask for a conditional use permit to run the guard dog training facility

If Flynn should deny their request, Schilp and Mills can appeal to the board of supervisors.

In the meantime, the training of guard dogs on 60 acres right next to a residential development apparently will continue

'Safety First' is way of life at GE's Plutonium Fuels lab

The slogan "Safety First" is paid lip service by almost every industrv in America.

At the Plutonium Fuels Laboratory at the General Electric Vallecitos Nuclear Center (VNC), Safety First is a way of life

And with a brand new $1 million per year contract from the Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA) to produce fuel rods for fast breeder reactors, officials at VNC are tightening the already stringent safety and control methods that have resulted in perfect safety record since the laboratory opened in 1962.

Plutonium is a man-made radioactive element of tremendous potential and correspondingly tremendous danger. It is the key fuel for fast breeder nuclear reactors, which are step two in the development of nuclear energy.

The first step is the light water reactors, which are already in operation throughout the world (in fact, a small scale one has been running at VNC since 1957).

The light water reactors are not as powerful as the breeder reactors, but are also considered much safer by nuclear power critics. However through a pleasant quirk in the structure of uranium, breeder reactors actually produce more nuclear fuel than they consume. The fuel they produce is plutonium, which then must be processed and packaged before it can be used again.

And that is what the Plutonium Fuels Laboratory is all about — constructing fuel rods for insertion in breeder reactors.

A fuel rod is simply a string of radioactive pellets that produce energy. That energy is converted into heat, which then boils a liquid that turns turbines to produce electricity.

Obviously, the fuel rods are quite dangerous to construct and transport, since the energy contained in them is enormous. A simple string of 24 pellets a quarter inch on each side contain enough power to supply nearly two families for a whole year.

The strict security at VNC has two purposes — to protect the workers and the public and to protect the plutonium.

If plutonium escapes into the surrounding areas — which it has never done at VNC in quantities large enough to do anyone any harm — it could do tremendous damage. It also could be a potent blackmail weapon for terrorists.

Consequently getting into the Plutonium Fuels Laboratory is an adventure in itself. Two separate checks are made and two entirely different badges are required to even enter the lab. Searches are routinely conducted and a metal detector chick is automatic.

Exiting the Plutonium Fuels Laboratory involves two separate radioactivity checks and a vacuum system to pick up any stray radioactive particles.

One of the reasons for VNC receiving the $1 million ERDA contract is its elaborate computer system that can give an up-to-date accounting of every piece of radioactive material in the lab. Thus, not even a microgram of plutonium will be lost — which insures environmental safety and protection against theft of small amounts of the extremely valuable and dangerous material.

Obviously, working with a substance like plutonium requires extraordinary measures and VNC is well prepared. All fabrication of fuel pellets is done inside "glove boxes", which are hermetically sealed and can only be worked in through thick rubber gloves that are part of the box. The worker also wears another pair of rubber gloves so that any accidental leak has a backup.

(Plutonium, by the way, is not dangerous to humans unless it is taken into the body in some way. Its emissions are stopped by the skin, but if it is breathed, it can cause lung cancer.)

The plutonium comes into the lab in a nitrate form and must be changed into plutonium oxide to be used in fuel pellets.

That complex process takes place along one wall of the lab, and the plutonium nitrate is dissolved, the remainder shaped into a liquid and the liquid treated to produce plutonium oxide.

The oxide is a powder, and it is transported to another part of the lab for fabrication into the quarter inch pellets.

First, the plutonium oxide is mixed with uranium oxide and then it is milled, reblended and slugged by a 35 ton press.

It must be granulated so that it will "flow" together and then it is pressed once again.

After that, the pellets are heated to 1650 degrees Centigrade for 15 hours in an atmosphere with 6 per cent hydrogen. This makes a near ceramic of the fuel pellet, which is then ground to the proper size, loaded, checked, tested and finally assembled into a fuel rod.

The small dull gray pellets, weighing about a gram and a half each, are the most powerful source of energy on the earth today.

VNC is being called upon to demonstrate that a fabrication process can be safe and environmentally clean, then to supply fuel rods for tests and demonstrations and finally to do material property studies.

If the past is any guide, VNC will conduct its research into the one of the most dangerous substances on earth quietly, efficiently, successfully and above all, safely

Miller calls 'Town Hall' type meets

Congressman George Miller, D — Martinez, will be holding seven "Town Hall" meetings with his constituents during the current recess.

Miller will be available to meet with district residents who wish to directly discuss any issues with him.

Miller's schedule is:

☐ Aug. 21 — Pittsburg City Hall, 8 - 10 p.m.

☐ Aug. 23 — Sun Valley Shopping Center, Concord, 1 - 3 p.m.

☐ Aug. 27 — Veteran's Memorial Bldg., Richmond, 8 - 10 p.m.

☐ Aug. 28 — Franklin Savings & Loan, Danville, 8 - 10 p.m.

Quick action on three item VCSD agenda

One of the shortest Valley Community Services District meetings on record took Place Tuesday night in Dublin, as a bare quorum of directors hustled through a three-item agenda.

Board members Chuck Ladner and Dick Fahey were both on vacation, but the only item of interest they missed was referred to staff.

That was the preservation of the Fallon House, a project of the Livermore-Amador Valley Historical Society, which VCSD will aid as long as it costs the district nothing.

VCSD had been acting as a channel for funds for the preservation of the old home, which is endangered by the construction surrounding Interstate 580 and the proposed shoping center.

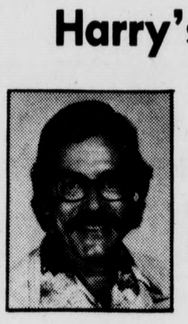
Harry's Corner



Clifton Fadiman has said, "The man who attracts luck carries with him the magnet of preparation." Naturally, we all know that confidence is bred of knowledge and, to be truly professional, we must constantly increase our level of proficiency. However, it is also true that we must constantly go out and cover the territory. A key phrase is "S.T.P." — see the people.

I am often reminded of reports received by an incredulous sales manager from his salesman in the field, a gentleman named Gooch.

"Dere Boss:

I seen this outfit which they ain't never baut a dimes worth of nothin' from us and I sole them a couple hundred thousand dollars worth of guds. On to Chawgo."

Two days later from "Chawgo" came another report:

"I cum hear and sole them half a milyon." Both letters were posted on the company's bulletin board with a note appended by the outfit's president:

"We been spendin to much time hear tryint to spel, instead of tryint to sel. Lets watch those sails. want everybody should reed these letters from Gooch who is on the rode doing a grate job for us, and you should go out and do like he done."

A poem you might enjoy:

"He worked by day and toiled by night,
He gave up play and some delight,
Dry books he read, new things to learn,
And forged ahead, success to earn.
He plodded on with faith and pluck,
And when he won, men called it luck."

The profession of Real Estate has given you the opportunity to be as great or as small as your ambition and self-image dictate. You and you alone will make the choice whether you prosper or proceed on a catch-as-a-catch-can basis.

Isotope fuel space power investigated

The Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA) is investigating the possibility of an isotope-fueled space power system for use on near Earth to outer space missions beginning in the 1980's.

ERDA has selected Sundstrand Corporation of Illinois for first-phase development, which includes the design and test of an organic Rankine ground demonstration.

A Rankine system employes a contained liquid that is constantly turned into a gas to drive a turbine and then allowed to cool back to a liquid again. An organic Rankine system employes an organic fluid to run the system.

The $3.8 million phase one project is expected to take almost three years with eventual delivery of an entire system by 1984.

The space shuttles are expected to be heated by radioactive isotopes and produce between .5 and 2 kilowatts of electric power.

Energy administration outlines solar plans

The Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA) today announced publication of a report on its national program for the development of solar energy.

The Lawrence Livermore Laboratory is involved in a solar energy project with Standard Oil of Ohio and Sandia Laboratories is also working on a solar energy project.

Both labs receive funds from ERDA.

The ERDA report — titled "Definition Report for the National Solar Energy Research, Development and Demonstration Program" — outlines programs for developing solar energy as a commercially viable and environmentally acceptable energy source.

Each of the three different technology applications described in the report is expected to develop at a different pace during the time up to and beyond the year 2000.

Direct thermal applications, which include solar heating and cooling of buildings and the use of solar heat for agricultural and industrial purposes, are expected to begin contributing as energy producers before 1985 and to increase significantly before 2000.

Based on projections of future energy supply and demand, solar energy could supply 7 per cent of the nation's energy in 2000 and 25 per cent in 2020.

Nurses open south county office Sept. 2

HAYWARD — Southern Alameda County is about to get its own office of the Oakland Visiting Nurse Association.

Opening Sept 2, the office will be at 411 West Industrial Parkway, Hayward. The association, supported by United Way donations, has been providing comprehensive nursing care in the home for Alameda County residents for more than 50 years.

Valley residents may call the toll-free number, ENterprise 1-7779 to get in touch with the organization.

According to executive director Nancy Bessire, "We have responded to the concern of residents of southern Alameda County for the need to have an office in this area. Although care has been provided to southern Alameda County residents for many years, this office will increase our service in the community."

Splash day features animal acts, tightrope, -even swimming

PLEASANTON — Come one! Come all!

Come see: a synchronized swimming demonstration!

Wild animal acts!

Death-defying tightrope walkers!

AND.. the all-important Penny Toss !

Come to "Splash Day" at the Pleasanton Aquatic Center on Black Avenue. The day is set aside for demonstrations by all those who participated in the 1975 Learn-to-swim lessons.

The day begins at 9:30 a.m with registration for those who wish to participate in the stroke contest, where speed doesn't count but good form does.

Participants are asked to bring their highest level Red Cross card with them.

The stroke contest will begin at 10 a.m. Ribbons will be given out to first, second and third place winners with special awards for best male and female swimmer.

The stroke contest will be followed by demonstrations and games. Highlight of the morning will be the money toss in the pool with all participants given the opportunity to find pennies or nickels.

Parents are requested not to send their four- and five-year-olds unless the Parents are willing to stay in the area, because the Recreation Department staff has a hard time keeping track of all the children.

No alcohol faculty clubs

SACRAMENTO (AP)— Alcoholic drinks could not be sold at student unions or new faculty clubs on state college campuses under a bill approved by an Assembly committee Tuesday.

The bill by Sen. Walter Stiern, D-Bakersfield, would not stop current liquor sales to members at faculty clubs on four University of California campuses.

But it would bar any more faculty clubs or any other facilities on UC or state college campuses from obtaining liquor licenses.

The bill would nullify a recent action by state college trustees allowing each college president to decide whether to permit beer sales on campus to students 21 or older.

"I don't feel that the consumption of alcohol on campus is particularly conducive to learning," Stiern said in an interview. He said taxpayer-supported schools should not be providing sites for liquor sales.

Several members of the Assembly Governmental Organization Committee, including chairman Bob Wilson, D-La Mesa, said they objected to maintaining clubs restricted to members and guests on public campuses.

Profits first — public be damned

Why is a freeway interchange — built by the State of California at a cost in excess of $1 million and placed into use four years ago — still being reserved today for the exclusive use of two gravel firms and their clients?

If that facility at I-580 and El Charro Road was necessary — as local and county government argued way back in 1965 — for "public convenience and safety," then it must be assumed those same governmental entities would have moved sometime during that decade to provide the necessary access to that interchange.

But if — as the county's director of public works now suggests — "there is no pressing need for that public access" even in 1975, then why in God's name was that interchange so important, five or ten years ago? A reasonable person can only look at the very special privilege being enjoyed by certain private interests because of that freeway access, and wonder at the motivation for that expense from the outset.

We can no longer accept that county argument which suggests "public access through that gravel pit area would be dangerous." It is no more dangerous now than it was in 1965 when that local-county-state agreement was signed; and there is considerably more "public danger" today in not providing full access to El Charro Road, while leaving Stanley Boulevard to struggle under an intolerable burden of truck and car traffic.

The El Charro Road interchange was vigorously pursued by local and county interests as long ago as 1965 "because we must provide direct freeway access from Stanley Boulevard for all the gravel trucks." Today, just two of those firms, representing no more than half the total truck volume, have exclusive access to El Charro Road and therefore to that freeway interchange.

In the meantime, Shadow Cliffs Park has been developed to a popular, regional attraction, and the crush of traffic from points as far away as Hayward and Fremont is growing more evident each summer. El Charro Road — or its public equivalent — would provide direct access from that park to I-580. That is the "master plan" presented by East Bay Regional Park officials when the first proposed that recreation area. But again, nothing has been done to build that access, and the congestion on Stanley grows more critical.

Now we have the prospect of two of those gravel firms gaining county permission to launch new excavations that would d prevail through the end of the century, and perhaps beyond. Since these firms do not enjoy the "El Charro Road privilege," their trucks will continue to clog Stanley Boulevard and related city streets, for another 20 years or 30 years. That is intolerable. It is very likely illegal.

The Alameda County Planning Commission is now accepting "public comment" relative to the "environmental impact" of this latest bid to expand the gravel pits.

The blight of trucks and dust and noise along Stanley Boulevard and adjacent city streets is the worst kind of impact on our environment and our safety. The county must be made to alleviate that situation — and to live up to that 1965 contract with the state — before than there is any attempt at adding even one more acre to those gravel diggins.

FOCUS/Getting to school

Precaution needed

The initial two evidence of 1975-76 budget cuts in valley school district budgets will come September 4 when hundreds of school children who previously caught busses to school start hoofing it.

All students in Amador-Pleasanton grades kindergarten through twelfth will be expected to walk one-quarter of a mile farther.

While this added distance should not be of any real concern to junior high and high school students and parents, it could cause some real problems for the younger ones....especially those whose families may not be able to transport them to and from school. This problem could be compounded during the winter months.

But apparently it can't be helped.

Field trips and busses for after school athletics have been gone over with the proverbial fine tooth comb.

Director of Transportation Mike Ananos, in league with the district staff and trustees, did not arrive at the list of eliminated bus stops (published in last Sunday's Times) without considerable soul-searching.

Kindergarteners living within one mile of their school will be expected to walk. Grades four through eight living within one-and-one-quarter mile of their school will also be expected to walk, as will high school students living within two-and-one-quarter miles of their school.

Twenty-nine bus stops in all are to be eliminated, and all of Vintage Hills' 200 K-3 students will be walkers.

At first glance, it appears as though students residing in the Vintage Hills area will be doing lots of walking.

Among those bus stops eliminated are ones at Kottinger-Concord, Concord-Palomino, Vineyard-Sauterne, Vineyard-Mobile Homes Park, Vineyard-Linden, Kottinger-Moselle, Vineyard-Vine, Touriga-Tawny, Palomino-Norton, Norton-Tannet and Vintner Way-vacant lot.

These eliminated stops were for students going to Amador, Pleasanton Middle and Valley View.

This belt-tightening exercise can be made less irritating if those affected will come together in a spirit of cooperation and form car pools. Or a committee of walker chaperones.

Three-quarters of a mile or mile may not seem like much but it's quite a hike to a six, seven or eight-year old ... particularly if the weather is wet or windy.

Their is a similar problem in the making for Foothill High students.

Not one of walking so much as more vehicles pouring in and out of the school from Foothill Road.

Foothill will have a junior class come next month, meaning many youngsters will be of driving age.

Inexperienced drivers, perhaps with a car load of friends, will be traveling on the road, turning into and out from the school, along with faculty members, other adults and those commuting to work.

Foothill administrators are well aware of the hazards and will be reminding all students of same as school convenes.

We believe, however, it will take a concerted effort involving students, parents, administration and authorities to insure safe procedures.

Approximately 1,000 students and another couple hundred faculty and classified staff members and parents will be headed into the campus (almost all on buses or in cars) each morning between 7:30 and 8:30 and moving out onto Foothill Road again between 2 and 4.

The safety of our young people must be of paramount importance.

No matter if they be a first grader or eleventh grader, safe procedures must be adopted in advance of school opening.

This will necessitate the cooperative efforts of Amador-Pleasanton school administration, parent groups, individual school administrators, the transportation section of the district and Pleasanton Police.

round the town

Things you would never know if you hadn't turned immediately to this column ...

Next Thursday the nation and the world will be celebrating birthdays for Ingrid Bergman and Charles Boyer. She is 58. He is 76.

And for those of you who can recall the two of them making love, or whatever, on the cinematic stage, we can now wonder at the intimacy achieved by those two old pros, even despite the difference in their ages.

Like to bet Ingrid and Charlie could still melt the film, if turned loose to do their own special pas de deux.

Fascinating item number two ...

"It now takes just 74 days to actually build the typical single family dwelling, but it first requires 18 months to process the paper work involved therein."

We are fast approaching that time when we will consume more trees in the production of printing papers than we use for the building of homes and such. Motto: Get out of the construction game and put your money into Xerox.

Newspapers are using up trees at a great rate. When the Canadian mills aren't on strike, that is. Last year wasn't all that good for the flow of newsprint, particularly for smaller publications without the metro's clout, but there was nothing wrong with the flow of advertising dollars into the nation's weeklies.

Having been weaned on the "non daily" portion of this industry, there is still a soft spot in this journalist's typewriter (right now it's actually an IBM Selectric II) for the rural press. They are doing just fine, thank you.

In 12 years circulation for the nation's weeklies has jumped from just under 24 million to slightly over 36 million. Gross income for 1974 is pegged at $1.7 BILLION. That makes the weekly press almost as big as Safeway Stores, which would also like to be your friend.

There's a helluva lot of blood, sweat and printing goes into that $1.7 billion, but a lot of self satisfaction too. Just ask the man who publishes one.

Everybody loves the small town and the small-hown ways. Or so they say. The 9th U.S. Court of Appeals agrees that "small can be good," even in Petaluma. "A city is within its rights to preserve its small-town character, its open spaces ..." That's what the Appeals Court said. Now we'll see if the U.S. Supreme Court agrees it could make the Sunols and Mountain Houses dominant in this world, if they aren't already.

Some folks would take us back even farther than that. To the days when there were no cities; just open spaces, and rivers running free. They have formed a club, naturally. "The American River Touring Association." I have been invited to join. (I suspect what they really want is for me to give them a free plug. They don't really want us old, over-40 duffers messing up their rapids.)

The idea behind all these "wilderness movements" is to "keep the land in its natural state." Translation: Make it so's nobody but a mountain goat or a college athlete can get in. Preferably mountain goats and college kids loaded with spare cash and time, to plan the big river trip, stock up for the overland trek, climb the highest mountain, etc. etc.

I have been waiting for a news release from "Americans Over 40 Who Want the Right to Enjoy Wilderness Country Too" (AO4WWREWC, for short.) Folks who find pleasure in driving past Mt. Shasta, even though they will never be able to climb it. A family that might enjoy a day at Bill Apperson's Dude Ranch, without having to invest $140 in a sleeping bag, or $300 in a horse. They would also just as soon not pack in their own privy.

I'm all for "protecting the wilderness for our children," mind you. But I would also like to see a few folks over 50 and under $15,000 a year income for a family of five, enjoy some of that beauty, too. AO4WWREWC arise! I'll sign the petition.

If you've been following that series in the Oakland Trib — the one with startling revelations about monopolies in the food biz — then you know there is hope yet for the small town, the small farmer, the mom-and-pop grocer. While back we reminded you that even some of the college set — the ones that finally ran out of mountains to climb, wild rivers to conquer — are turning to Rural America as the next big frontier. If they can also learn to love the short-handle hoe, the seven-day work week and cleaning out the barn before breakfast ("Just don't serve me meat patties before 6:30 a.m.") then there is hope for America, folks.

The kids can go back to working the farms, publishing the weekly newspaper ... all them really fun things. And I will join the rest of you over-40 duffers, walking hand in hand with Ingrid and Charles along the wilderness path. Just so long as the grade is no greater than seven percent, and there's someplace to plug in the heating pad.

At age 76 I figure M. Boyer is still a great lover. But only when his arthritis isn't acting up.

Letters to the editor.

Teaching patriotism

Over a year ago, in March, 1974 — a date which far precedes currrent public outcry about the lack of patriotism being learned in the schoolrooms in Livermore — I submitted a proposal to the School Board asking them to consider a new English course.

The course curriculum was approved, and final preparations are now in the works. The class is titled "English 1776" and will be offered in the Spring semester at Granada High.

Out of the documents that will be studied in the class, the participants will try to get a feeling for what Judge Learned Hand has called "the Spirit of Liberty." During the semester, each student, it is hoped, will get a wide perspective from his readings and writing so that he can learn more about what love of country means.

The letter I am writing here is a request to the public for definitions of liberty and of patriotism which citizens of the community hold and are proud of. The students will read and give them consideration.

Three possible definitions of the many which must exist come to my own mind. "Patriotism" is love for one's country, which I believe involves 1) love for the physical countryside, 2) love for the citizenry united within the nation, and 3) love for the documents and principles which give the nation order.

However, I am sure there are numerous meanings of patriotism and liberty which citizens in the Livermore area cherish and which they'd consider valid to be presented to the students taking English 1776.

I therefore ask that these people compose their definitions into writing and send them to Granada High TUFOLD, 400 Wall St., Livermore, in care of English 1776.

Even School Board members and Education Center administrators are encouraged to present their views, although from March, 1974, up to the present date, I have received no positive acknowledgment from either of these sources concerning the course. Perhaps they're not aware they approved it. Since I presented the proposal, I have received hearty commendation from Jack P. Lee, but not any such word from anyone above him in the District hierarchy, and it strikes me as odd that top school officials are outspoken in publicizing what we teachers are not doing to further love for a flag while those same officials ignore what is being done to emphasize the principles for which that flag stands. Quite likely the source of their outrage is ignorance.

In closing let me add that I hope at the end of English 1776 each student will come to love his country more deeply than he's been told he should by parents, politicians, preachers, and teachers in the schools.

Helpful fireman

Editor, The Times:

One week ago, an off-duty Livermore fireman, Mr. Chuck Mack stopped while out with his family to drive me, a stranger, for emergency treatment to the Valley Memorial Hospital.

I would like to publicly thank again Mr. and Mrs. Mack and children for their grabiousness and generosity.

All Comers Meet

Editor, The Times:
Livermore High School had its 1st All Comers Meet and it was highly successful.

Running is the basic of all sports so participating in an All Comers Meet can be valuable in all your sports. It is also good for your health at any age. Have some fun and enjoy yourself in a healthy sport.

Perhaps the recreation dept. may have some more "All Comers Meets." Watch the sports section and be ready.

The small fry especially were remarkable and a lot of fun to watch — the eight year olds. Parents helped the officials and a good time was had by all.

PRA members

Editor, The Times:
Your article today correctly points out that the City Council members and the Pleasanton Redevelopment Agency (PRA) members are the same. But what if at some time in the future that changes because the City Council appoints other people to the PRA?

We could end up with an independent self-perpetuating group with no public control via the election/recall process, and they would be making decisions on how and where to spend millions of dollars, if all that is forecast happens.

If the City Council is going to remain as the PRA I would like to see that spelled out in the Plan before adoption. If not I would like to have spelled out that limitations and control there would be on a separate PRA.

Parks and parking

Livermore Councilwoman Helen Tirsell, casting her eyes and sketch pad toward the proposed mini-park on the southeast corner of First Street and S. Livermore Avenue, says she thinks it's possible to combine utility (parking facilities) and beauty (greenery). Good idea.

Here is an opportunity for the city to marry two basic needs — downtown beautification and downtown parking. This is a chance for the beautification committee to work with the city's engineering staff and come up with an aesthetically pleasing parking lot and multi-functional park. It's an opportunity for those concerned with the beauty of Livermore to join forces with those who see a need for more public conveniences. The two points of view need not be mutually exclusive.

Objections to including parking spaces in the park center around fears the facilities will be monopolized by certain factions and the park's appearance will deteriorate. These are some of the practical problems that could be satisfactorily resolved by the combined effort and knowledge of beautification committee members and city engineers.

Downtown Livermore deserves visual relief and a lessening of traffic congestion. Here's its chance.

Here we go again

We're back to our old driving and gas-guzzling habits.

That bit of bad news comes from the State Board of Equalization, which reports that "motorists are buying gasoline in amounts exceeding the pre-energy crisis levels."

The June figures reveal a record gas consumption at record levels for that month. The 888,024,629 gallons used by motorists in June of 1975 was some 34 million greater than June of last year, and 12 million gallons more than we consumed in June of 1973 ... before we knew the nation, and the world, was confronted with "an energy crisis."

But because that particular iceburg no longer appears above the surface, we are inclined to forget the massive danger which still lurks in the bowels of this globe's energy resource. So jump into the car, and jump onto the gas pedal. The crisis is no longer with us ... at least not until next month.

Sound and Fury

Walt Hecox

Probably I should say something about the troubles the sheriff's department of Alameda County must surely be feeling because of their mistreatment of George Spiliotopoulos when he was a temporary guest at Tom Houchins' Santa Rita Road hostelry.

We have chatted about the evil which must exist in that miserable haven for misery and depression which allowed George to be so cruelly mistreated and of possible remedies for the situation.

So far no one has come up with a satisfactory solution for the situation.

It is often easy to criticize, hard to reform.

Personnel problems within a civil service system are often extremely difficult to correct.

Certainly there must be some type of personnel problem at Santa Rita. I don't care one hell of a lot whether George was right or wrong. Personally I believed his story exactly as it was told. But even if he was misbehaving, there is no excuse for his emerging from that bastion of dispair with a face which looked slightly like chopped hamburger.

A policeman's job is to enforce the law, not deliver punishment. That privilege, if it can be construed as such, is reserved for the courts in this society we believe to be civilized.

Those who have indicated otherwise with either letters or telephone calls or in conversation with each other had better look to themselves before they justify and condone prisoner mistreatment.

There are many ways a person can find his way into stony lonesome through absolutely no fault of his own.

The case of the Dublin lad who was taken to the slammer and was incarcerated for some six hours before his family was able to effect a rescue.

He was the victim of a "routine check" of Dublin teenagers.

Some people call those "routine checks" hasseling but I am not among them.

Unfortunately for the well behaved majority of teen agers there are just enough undisciplined lads and lassies around to present a problem to the community and the police.

That Dublin house which was victimized by teen age vandals was not alone. The place directly across the street from our San Ramon home was cruelly vandalized just after it had been sold and was temporarily empty.

The result is that the few deputies on duty in the Dublin area must be super careful and some youngsters feel they are being unjustly annoyed.

The one to whom I refer had recently sold a car which then had its license plates stolen.

For reasons I cannot explain the sale was not registered or recorded with the California Department of Motor Vehicles.

When the deputies questioned the boy a routine PIN check revealed there were many traffic tickets pending, with arrest warrants, for the owner of those stolen plates.

The plates were still listed as the boy's property and he was promptly hustled off to Houchins' Hotel.

I don't know how the boy acted. Apparently his behavior was good because he came out of the place at four a.m. unscathed.

Believe me, he would have been justified had he raised a little hell. The tickets were not his, a fact he was able to prove, and he was guilty of no violation of the law.

Yet he was in jail. A little indignation could be expected under the circumstances.

As the Spiliotopoulos incident indicated, a little indignation might just wind up with a man having bloodspots on his bangs.

Believe me, there are more than a few innocent people who are hustled into the hostile gates of Santa Rita.

One of them could quite conceivably be you.

So look to yourselves when you begin advocating a little unofficial punishment by the deputies at the county jail.

YOUR head might bang, one day, against a wire wall.

And try to remember those words uttered almost two thousand years ago. "If there is one among you who has not sinned . . ." While walking toward the Cheese Factory (so help me that is true) for my noontime snack I came up with a solution to the problems at Santa Rita which might curl what is left of Tom Houchins' hair but which is the only reasonable idea I have had on the matter.

Perhaps a large and responsible citizens committee should be organized by the Alameda County Board of Supervisors and the members of the various city councils.

There should be, by my reconing, some 365 members of this committee with special awards of merit given to those who serve on Christmas, Thanksgiving Day, Labor Day, Independence Day, Memorial Day and New Year's eve.

The members of this committee would take watchdog tours, unannounced, one night a year each. They would report any cruelty, misbehavior or irregularities by either prisoners or deputies.

You can bet your sweet Post Toasties that would put the lads and lassies working at the county jail farm on their toes.

I suggest 365 members because I believe there should be no chance of any of the committee becoming overly familiar with either prisoners or guards.

I know Tom. It's a hairbrained scheme.

But do you have a better one?

I heard that Tom. And for your information, my business, to some degree, is minding yours.

For Friday, Aug. 22, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A co-worker upsets you and makes you moody today. Cheer up. Evening brings a refreshing social time.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Even though it's Friday night, you'll have a better time with family than with friends. Don't feel obligated to go out.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You'll feel that family members or even your best pal won't understand you today. Don't fret, meeting someone new can chase boredom.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) It's not a day to take chances. Lady Luck has deserted your corner. Your good fortune comes from a family member's surprise in the evening.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You tend to be extravagant today. You erroneously feel you must impress others. Satisfaction comes from being yourself.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Insisting upon having your way only results in upsetting you. The family will let you know quickly that they don't like it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You tend to be a dreamer today. Ideas will elude you. It will be tough to accomplish the things you should.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Social obligations turn out to be needlessly expensive. Don't be trapped into doing something you don't want to do.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Examine your motives to make sure they're not completely selfish before you complain about not getting cooperation at home.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your negative thoughts hold Dame Fortune back from furnishing you with a pleasant surprise later in the day.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You delude yourself into thinking the group can't get along without you. It's going to cost you right in the pocketbook.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Someone could steal the applause that you richly deserve for an accomplishment. Don't despair. The day will right itself.

Your Birthday

Aug. 22, 1975

You will make two important changes this coming year. They'll prove very beneficial and profitable. One affects your career, the other your residence.

In the other 36-hole division, boys 14-15, Allan Norris took the' lead with a 79 to hold a two-stroke edge over John Briggs, who had an 81. Pete Beaulieu was third with an 83.

All other divisions were strictly one day affairs and winners were determined after a round of 18 holes or less .

In the boys 12-13, Frank Mona gave his brothers some incentive by capturing the title with an 84. Keith Olson was second at 92 with Dick Meitz third in 101.

Sean Cassidy took a one-hole playoff from John Chester to win the boys 10-11 title after both ahad shot 56's in regulation nine-hole play.

The under-9 group played just four holes, with John Beaulieu winning with a 33. Scott Wardrope was fairly close with a 35 to finish two strokes back while David Beaulieu was third with a 40.

The girls 16-18 and 14-15 divisions were not fraught with tense exit only one player signed up in each class.

Janice Bates took the 16-18 crown by touring the course in 164, while Sue Goodwin nailed down the 14-15 title with a 179.

The girls 12-13 division had two competitors. Nancy Gill's 158 gave her a seven stroke vicotory over Seanne Carrigan (165).

In girls 10-11 four-hole action, Leslie Lortz had a 32 for top honors, closely followed by Carlene Cassidy who beat Libby Stevenson in a one-hole playoff for second. Cassidy and Stevenson each fired a 34.

DAVE FINN'S RACQUET BECOMES A BLUR AS HE SMASHES A SHOT AT PAUL HERBST

Finns finding fast fame

Dave and Andy Finn have become somewhat of celebrities this past week in the 5th Annual USLTA Pleasanton Non-Ranked tennis tournament at Amador Valley High School.

Following third round play last night, which climaxes today with quarters and the finals, both Finn brothers are seeded in this morning's matches.

Dave, perhaps the stronger of the two, beat Paul Herbst of Moraga, 6-1, 6-0, and meets San Jose Matt Houseman. To top that feat off, in the 16's Dave aced San Jose's Tony Espinosa, 6-0, 6-0.

Meanwhile, Andy beat Livermore's Perry Fotos, 6-4, 6-2, and is pitted against Travis Lee, another local, in a quarter-final.

In two other 18 quarters, Jay Riddell of Hayward plays Jeff Soulages of Fremont; andy Sunnyvale's Bob Packard takes on Gilroys Lou Gijaula.

Debbie Lapp, an 18 year old lost 7-5, 6-3 to Michelle Harvey.

In the lower half of the boys-16 singles, Alameda's Randall Lee , who set Pleasanton's Bill Reeve, lost to Vic Gardner of Castro Valley, 6-2, 6-0. Gardener plays Andre Farpor, who reached the semis via a 6-2, 6-2 win over Pleasanton's Dave Reineking.

Mike Crow narrowly missed getting into the quarters, but was eliminated by Belvedere's Josh McIntyre, 7-5, 7-6.

In the top half of yesterday's 16s, Castro Valley's Brad Foster, following a convincing 6-0, 6-2 win over Alameda's Brian Fox, plays El Cerrito's Jim Huang, a 2-6, 7-6, 6-3 victor over Richmond's Marlon Van Quarles. Crow did pick up an earlier win, beating Bryan Chun of S.F., 6-4, 6-2.

Pleasanton's Bob Cannon was eliminated from further action by Robert Thompson of San Anselmo, 6-3, 6-2.

Los Gatos Pete Anronico, who staved of Andrew Vamis, 6-3, 6-4, plays Thompson.

Mahana Fimerson of San Rafael, who like Dave Finn is getting around, reached both female 16 and 14 quarters. Mahana set up by beating Pleasanton's Marylin Morrell, 6-0, 6-3 in the 16's, then came back to nip Morrell again in the 14s, 6-2, 6-1.

In other girls-16 contests, Kathy Belmer, another Pleasanton product, meets Stockton's Jean Hilkens. Three other matches pit Alameda and Bloom, Sargeant-Fimerson, and Edsell-Belsche.

In another girls-14 match, Faith Howfield of San Jose beat Wendy Fears of Pleasanton, 6-0, 6-4.

Eight pairings were still in progress among the boys-14 bracket. Included were locals Reineking and Scott Buttimer. Ed James of San Francisco tops this bracket so far.

Ricky Gottesman and Mark Anderson, two Pleasanton entries in the male-12 fell victim to defeat. Gottesman, a 6-1, 6-0 match to Palo Alto's Jeff Magnuson; and Anderson, a 6-3, 7-5 match to Lafayette's Tom Nevins.

The girls-10 semi's are all set to go. Sqauring off are Lori Chow, Los Altos Hills, and Jill Burke, Carmichael; while Montega's Lynn Henderson meets Carolyn Yao of Alameda.

In boys-10 action, Clay Calvert, an entrant from St. Louis, has a strong hand.

Today's quarters and finals will run throughout the day, concluding around 5 p.m.

The meet is being sponsored by the Pleasanton Recreation department, the Amador Valley High tennis team and the Pleasanton Tennis Club.

Sports in brief

Foreman to get a tiger by the tail

George Foreman, who closed his recently-opened Livermore gym last Friday, will demonstrate his "body synchronization training methods" with tigers today at Marine World/Africa USA in Redwood City at 11 a.m.

While his 45-minute training session will feature regular training procedures, including six rounds of boxing with three opponents, heavy bag punching and rope skipping, Foreman will also discuss the adaptation of animal energy concepts to his own fighting methods.

A regulation boxing ring will be set up inside the animal performance ring in the Jungle Theatre. The exhibition, open to the first 2,000 visitors to enter the park today, will begin at 11 so as to not interfere with the regular 15-tiger act.

Foreman has been studying with trainer David McMillan the tiger energy conservation habit which, according to spokesman Henry Winston, is a "more deadly emulation" of the techniques of Russian ballet dancers who study in a room full of domestic cats.

The fall program for the Pleasanton Aquatic Center has been scheduled to begin Sept. 2, and end Oct. 5.

Recreation swimming hours will be as follows: Monday through Friday, Sept. 2 to 19, 3 to 7 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 6 to 21, 1 to 6 p.m.; Sept. 27 to Oct. 5, 1 to 5 p.m. Swim and stay fit, lap swimming for adults continues through Sept. 19, from 6 to 7 p.m. Pool may close if attendance is lacking. Patrons should call if the day is marginal.

Registration opens Aug. 18.

The Pleasanton PAL boxing program will begin preparations for this year's Tri-Valley Boxing Championships next Tuesday.

The program is open to anyone aged "6-60" and practices will be Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7-9 p.m. on Vervais Ave.

After the championships the club will fight other teams from Vallejo, Mt. View, Martinez and Sebastapol.

Details of the program, now in its third year are available from head coach Ken Hart, 846-1399.

Sign up and cheer

Cheerleaders are needed for the Pleasanton Junior Football Club season which begins in two weeks.

Girls between the ages of 10 and 14 are invited to call Mary Rose, 846-6277, for more information.

Wolfe eliminated

PEBBLE BEACH — Vig Wolfe, the last valley area player left in the Northern California Golf Association Amateur match play championships at Spyglass Hill has been eliminated.

Wolfe, from Livermore, dropped a 3-and-2 match to Ray Pelligrini of the Olympic Club. The Las Positas golfer apparently had trouble keeping his shots in line during the fourth round match.

In losing to Pelligrini, Wolfe failed to match his feet of the day before when he beat his previous night's roommate, Brian Decker.

Finals in the event will be Saturday.

Ultrasonic wash saves VMH time

LIVERMORE — Valley Memorial Hospital's surgical attendant, Jose Chavez, used to spend as long as six hours a day scrubbing thousands of surgical instruments.

Now, he spends half an hour running them through an ultrasonic washing machine. And they come out cleaner than ever.

The new washing machine, and its matching rinsing machine, are VMH's proud new acquisition. They're stainless steel, about the size and shape of a home washer and drier. But they cost a lot more — some $8,000 for the pair.

Jewelers have a smaller version for cleaning delicate jewelry more thoroughly and gently than is otherwise possible. What does the cleaning is high-frequency sound waves sent through the mild soap-and-water solution in which the instruments are soaking.

When switched on, the machine makes a high-pitched buzz as concentrated needlelike sound waves shoot through the water knocking off dirt molecules the eye can't even discern.

Ten-year-old surgical instruments that have a brownish cast from being sterilized so much turn shiny silver again after a dunking in the machine. Clamps that had been operating a bit stiffly suddenly begin to open and close freely once the invisible film of dirt has been vibrated away.

thousands of instruments are used every day, and most instruments cost seven dollars to $15 apiece. According to Bona Clark, operating room supervisor, the new machine will greatly add to instruments' life because most of the handling and scrubbing has been eliminated.

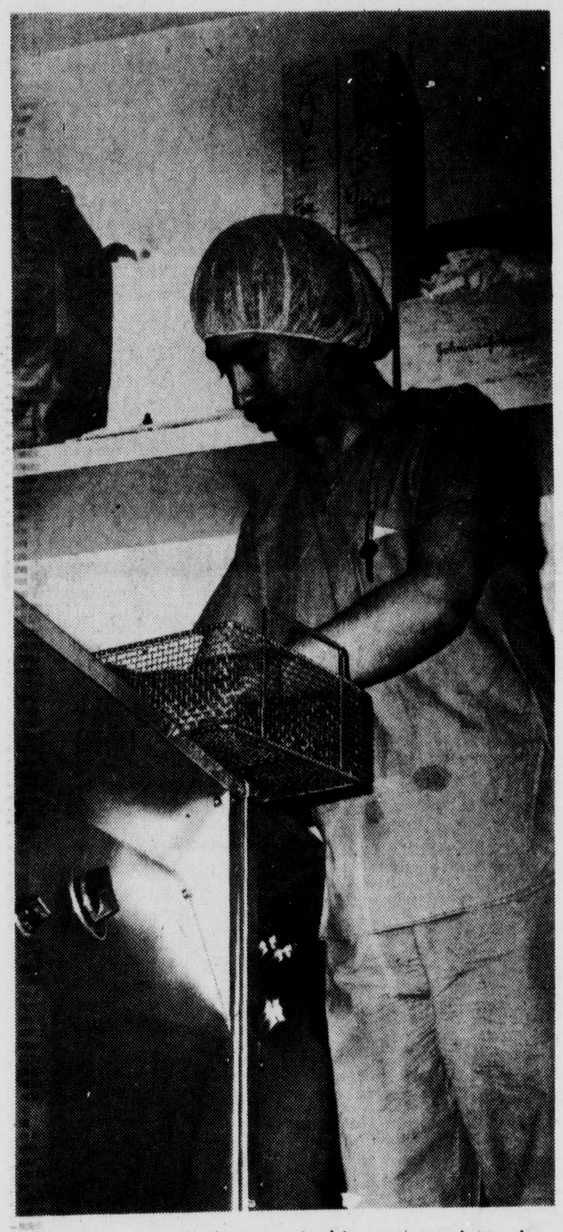
It will also free Chavez for other duties instead of keeping him at the sink most of the day. And it will save a lot of water, since the soapy solution may be re-used. (The instruments are rinsed, sorted and sterilized before being re-used in surgery.)

The new gadget is tucked away from public view in the operating suite. But the workers in that wing of the hospital regard it with intense fondness. As Ms. Clark puts it: "We are so happy to have it we can't believe it!"

AF trainee

Edward J. Hoeft, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hoeft of 4013 Stanley Blvd. in Pleasanton, is taking part in a U.S. Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps field training encampment at Vandenberg AFB.

A 1972 graduate of Amador Valley High School, Hoeft is a member of the AFROTC unit at San Jose State University.



Jose Chavez loads dirty surgical instruments into wire basket which will be lowered into the ultrasonic cleaning machine. Times photo

a salute to our local realtors

The men and women who have chosen Real Estate as their profession are concerned with far more than just making sales.

In Real Estate, as in many other modern businesses, a person must have a much more well rounded knowledge of their chosen careers than the realtor of just a few years ago.

WHAT CAN YOUR LOCAL REALTOR DO FOR YOU?

- Analyze your home needs. Modern Realtors are trained to match your family home needs with available homes in the area you prefer. Many Realtors can find your requirements anywhere in the country within a short time.
- HOME ECONOMY Through vast experience in selling and listing homes for a large variety of clients your local agent is alert to ways and methods of caring for your home, cutting unneccessary costs in upkeep and even giving advise in the preparations for the selling of your home or property.

MORE . . .

- Advice based on experience
- Help towards lower property taxes where they are warranted through state and national Realtors Associations
- Expert consultation in business and income property investments.

Of course, if you have done business with a local Realtor you are aware that they can and do offer these services and many many more.

Got a question about modern realtors and what they can do for you? Call one of our local experts today.

For recreation and travel

Chevy Vans, like other Chrvrolet trucks for 1975, offer further benefits as recreational and travel vehicles with engine advances, including an efficient high energy ignition system for all engines, changes in engine usage based on GVW ratings, and more optional equipment. Series 10 Chevy Van and Sportvan chasis are upgraded with use of larger front brakes. All Chevy Van and Sportvan interiors are enhanced by new trim colors. Beauville Sportvan interiors are essentially all-new, and include new high back front bucket seats. The 1975 emission requirements place most series 10 models in the light - duty emission group (up to 6,001 lbs. GVW) requiring catalytic converters and unleaded fuel.

Automatic gas mileage tagged for increases

If the country goes on a widespread fuel economy binge, what will happen to the automatic transmission? That question is answered in the current issue of Motor Magazine.

The manually operated transmission has always provided better gasoline economy than the automatic. Consumers who are interested in every positive method for saving fuel will still want to buy manuals.

General Motors and Ford engineers are confident, however, that automatics will continue to hold their own against the more economical manuals because the efficiency of the automatic is expected to increase in the next few years.

Some engineers say that the efficiency will be increased so much that the difference between the automatic and the manual transmission will be virtually indistinguishable.

Nevertheless, the initial cost of the automatic is substantially higher than that of the manual, and for the present, those mileage improvements haven't been made. Economy, both in initial and operating costs, still favors the manual.

A new battery of a heavy duty type should soon be available for trucks and large engine cars. The maker claims the new battery is maintenance free for life and impervious to vibration and corrosion. It supposedly never needs water either, and will hold a charge up to six times longer than conventional batteries.

Do it yourself engine tune-up mechanics will find that an old spark plug wire makes a handly holder for starting the threads on a new plug in some very tight corners.

The tight fit of the plug, to the nipple type terminal holds the plug in securely as it is turned to start the threads.

The flexibility of the wire allows you to form a curve, if necessary. This idea is also helpful for starting a new plug into a hot engine by keeping your fingers from being burned.

To inspect the radiator hoses on your car by yourself, wait until the engine is cool and squeeze the hose firmly from the outside. If it feels very flexible and mushy or very hard and brittle, the hose has deteriorated and should be replaced.

Top club qualifier

Joseph E. Boatright of 755 Concord St. in Pleasanton qualified as a member of the 1975 Top Club of New York Life Insurance Company.

Top Club membership is based on 1974-75 sales records and enables Boatright to attend an educational conference in San Diego.

Green Ridge Hills offers luxury in country setting

"You won't have to compromise your love of nature if you live in Green Ridge Hills," observed Anthony A. Allen, president of Singer Housing Company. "The peace and quiet of the countryside are all around you in this rural section of Crow Canyon in Castro Valley."

"Big, country-sized homes, offering up to 2,170 square feet of spacious living, feature the latest in imaginative three and four bedroom ranch, split-level, and two-story, single-family detached styling," Allen noted.

Located on Greenridge Road off Crow Canyon Road, this Singer community, priced from $62,950 to $71,950 represents outstanding values in luxury homes that would cost much more if built elsewhere, the builder reports. Financing is available with interest rates as low as 7 3/4%.

Many custom quality features are listed as standard at Green Ridge Hills," Allen pointed out. "Our array of custom appointments includes wall-to-wall carpeting, wood-burning fireplaces, shake roof, insulated ceilings and walls, ceramic tile entries, laundry areas with 220 wiring, Singer Security Package, and a wet bar and vaulted ceilings in some plans."

Convenience kitchens in this nature-oriented setting feature Hotpoint range with hood, light, fan, double oven (self-cleaning lower unit), food waste disposer, dishwasher, 6' square ceramic tile kitchen counter tops with tile splash, and stained natural wood cabinets.

To visit Green Ridge Hills, from the Nimitz Freeway (Hwy 17), take the Castro Valley exit (Hwy 238) east to Crow Canyon Road exit. Turn left on Crow Canyon Road and continue north to Green Ridge Road, then left on Greenridge to the sales office.

AD LIBS

By BILL HAYDEN

If you're looking for a 'Hot' place to have a 'hot' time in the old town on Sunday (August 24), we suggest you make every effort to get to Granucci's in Livermore where they are having a Chili Pepper Eating Championship between 3:00 and 6:00 p.m. Shown here is "Cherri," Miss Chili Pepper, who will be greeting you along with Entrepeneur Maynard Moreland. Anyone, according to report, can enter the championship competition. There are prizes, but the management insists that they're too hot to announce. There should be a place for everyone in the big race to the top. Four divisions have been announced. (1) Mild, (2) Hot, (3) Hot-Hot, and (4) Super Hot. We don't know just how much practice one needs to get into shape for the big event. The result, however, should be very interesting at 2293 First Street in Livermore

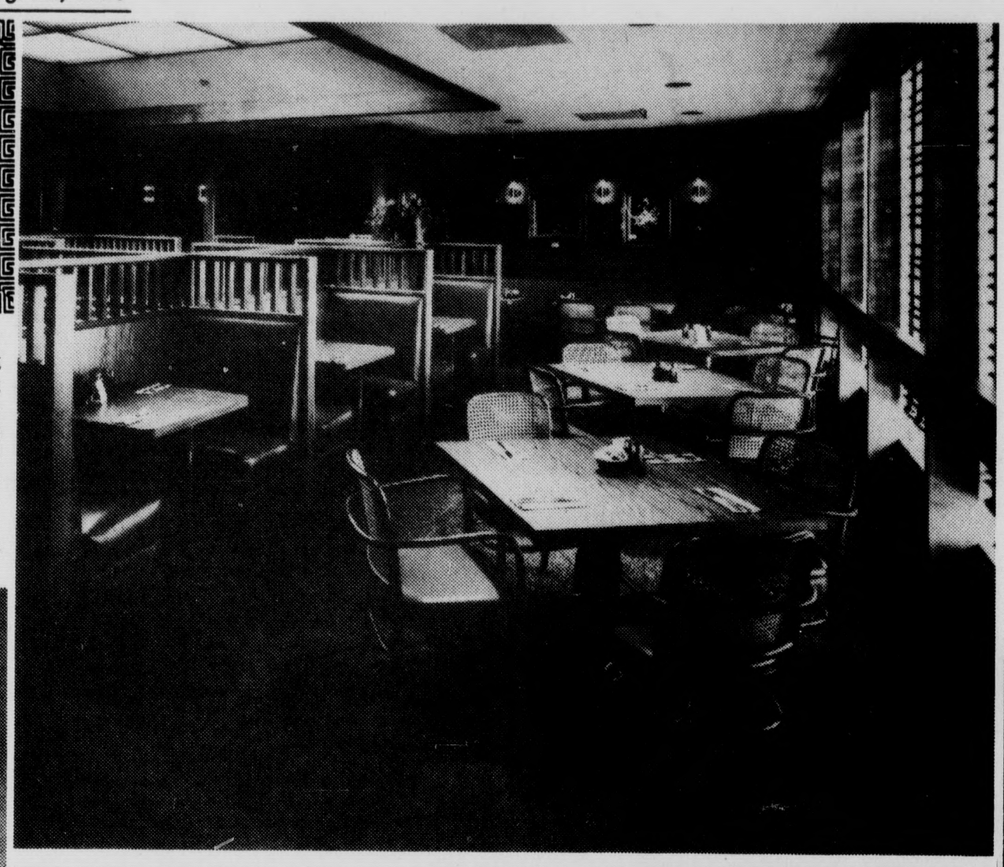
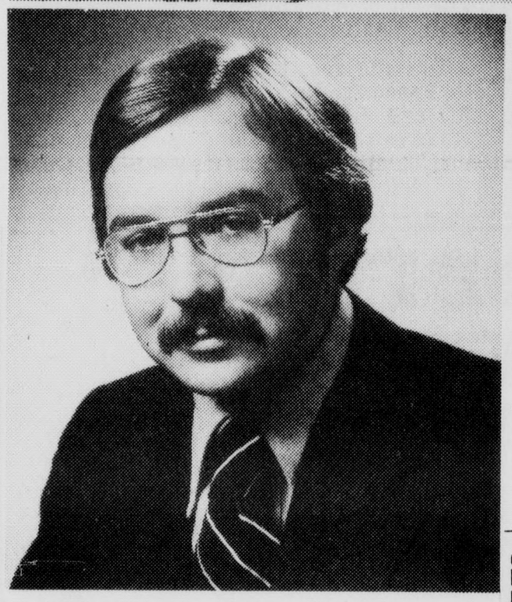
A little bit on the cooler side, but certainly as much fun, is the announcement that there are still tickets available for the opening performance of "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" (a title almost as long as the run of the play) in Walnut Creek at the Civic Arts Theatre on September 5.

The performance that date will be followed by a champagne reception at the Bank of California on Civic Drive. The reception will be catered by "Affairs Unlimited," and the entire cast of the show will be on hand to converse informally with the audience.

Reservations for the champagne opening may be made by calling 798-8252. For those who cannot make opening night, it is suggested you try to catch the fun musical during its run through October 18. Shown above are Carl Daddio who plays Hero and Georgia Lee who plays the lovely Philia. They're 'young love' at its most romantic. However, if you just can't wait to see a musical with Daddio in the cast, he's appearing tonight and Saturday as the romantic young lover in "The King and I" being presented by Pleasanton Playhouse at the Alameda County Fairgrounds in two final performances. Curtain's at 8 p.m.





WILLIAM TOM BRUCE is the personable Merchandise Manager of Capwell's Walnut Creek store.

When Capwell's in Walnut Creek officially re-opened this month, it became one of the most modern, efficient, full service department stores in Contra Costa County. One of the new attractions, after a year's remodeling, is the "Gallery" Restaurant, pictured above, which is located on the 2nd floor of the new store. You will be eating in style because the new facility offers lunch and dinner menus. Special Sunday Brunch will be an attraction for 'gourmet' shoppers. Also shown above is "The Vanguard Shop" which will be offering men's casual clothing in conveniently organized display. Capwells has provided transparent dividers and carefully planned open spaces so the shopper has easy access to all merchandise. A visit to the Walnut Street store should be a genuine shopping treat.
